Purchase Selection

- Reference R17 Family Pack [Windows] €60
- Reference R17 Single PC [Windows] €34

SETTING

Open the program (CDGrab)

... and select the drive from where the CD will be ripped

Create profile (assign name) or choose existing

Choose the format in which you want to rip (convert) the CD

Tip:

- for hi-fi take flac

- for usb in car take mp3

Set directory where the rip should end up

For instance

Determining the name:

In order to correctly align the way of working, this box must contain the following, in most cases this must be entered manually once (for example with copy/paste)

[IFVALUE]album artist,[album artist],[IFCOMP]Various Artists[][IF!COMP][artist][][][album]\[track]. [title]

Lossless encoding (uncompressed)

Preferably use “Uncompressed”, this is the default setting used by Fla-ts CD-Ripservice

Ripping (Converting)

- Select the drive to use
- Use "Eject CD" to open the tray

- DbPoweramp searches the data on the internet
- If necessary, you can make the necessary adjustments now (later they can be refined with software such as "mp3tag")
- At the bottom you can accept the cover art found or choose other

The CD will open automatically (setting) when ready

Accurate: This shows how many other people in the world ripped the same disc and had the same CRC (ie bit-perfect match). That's the advantage of accurate ripping over simple safe ripping (freeware)
